Description

CAB-AVT-W-115-230 is an active enclosure cooling solution designed for CABxx cabinets with a glazed door. It features a next-generation roof-mounted ventilation unit equipped with two fan modules (with the option to expand to six fan modules), engineered to fit multiple cabinet sizes with a single cut-out.

An internal thermostat ensures precise temperature control, while the outlet filter works in combination with the fan-and-filter unit to safely dissipate heat, provide consistent ventilation, and protect temperature-sensitive components by supplying cooler ambient air into the enclosure.
